

Resources

Abolitionist Storytelling

Anderson, P. (2022). Abolitionist Storywork: Making Stories an Instrument of Justice. Equity & Excellence in Education, 55(4), 322-327.

Gomez, L., Houdek, M., & Mejia, R. (2024). A Rhetoric that Breathes, a Rhetoric that Heals: In/coherence, Storytelling, and Abolitionist Futures. Women's Studies in Communication, 47(2), 101-108.

Hayes, C. M., & Gomez, A. M. (2022). Alignment of abolition medicine with reproductive justice. AMA journal of ethics, 24(3), 188-193.

Iwai, Y., Khan, Z. H., & DasGupta, S. (2020). Abolition medicine. The Lancet, 396(10245), 158-159.

James, J. E. (2024). Reproductive Justice and Abolition: Important Lessons Black Feminists Have Been Teaching Us for Years. The American Journal of Bioethics, 24(2), 55-58.

Jones, S. T., & Melo, N. A. (2021). We tell these stories to survive: Towards abolition in computer science education. Canadian Journal of Science, Mathematics and Technology Education, 21(2), 290-308.

Kilmer, A., & Antunes, M. J. L. Mass Incarceration, Reproductive Injustice, and the Need for Abolitionist Solutions. In Mass Incarceration in the 21st Century (pp. 249-260). Routledge.

Resources

Abolitionist Storytelling

Ocen, P. A., & Oparah, J. C. (2023). Embodied Abolition: Prisons, Pregnancy, and the Struggle for Birth Justice. In Birthing Justice (pp. 244-256). Routledge.

Simmons, R. (2023). Abortion to Abolition: Reproductive Health and Justice in Canada by Martha Paynter. IJFAB: International Journal of Feminist Approaches to Bioethics, 16(2), 209-213.

Interrupting Criminalization – Abolition Journalism

Patrisse Cullors Defines ‘Black Futures Month’ and Explains Why Abolitionist Storytelling Is Our Future

Toward Abolition Medicine

Restorative Justice Storytelling Webinar

We Need Reproductive Justice NOW!: An Argument for Abolition

